College won't last forever. Sooner or later, you have to think about what you'll be doing day in and day out as a career. As a student who enters the world of Air Force ROTC, you'll be introduced to a world where you can work on important, cutting-edge technology every day. Your college experience will be enhanced by your gained leadership skills, confidence and discipline — not to mention that it will be a lot more exciting. And upon graduation, you'll become a commissioned officer in the U.S. Air Force, where any job you hold becomes important, relevant and, yeah, a little bit sexy. If that sounds appealing, visit us online or simply call us.
