

Hurricane ravages New Orleans Universities

Our hearts go out to our friends at Loyola University New Orleans and Tulane. Both universities are temporarily closed due to hurricane Katrina, but should reopen for the spring semester. We'll miss U. this semester.

U. brought about 12,000 lbs. of relief supplies to shelters for hurricane Katrina victims. Based on what we saw this is a long term relief effort. We will be organizing additional relief efforts. If you would like to help please email us at:
