

UNIVERSITY OF CAMBRIDGE

THE NATIONAL GALLERY

in Trafalgar Square is free, yet has some of the most important paintings and sculpture from da Vinci, Rembrandt, Monet, Renoir, Cezanne, Raphael and Van Gogh. Shakespeare's Globe Theatre is dedicated to preserving the memory of his work. A short but informative tour is given most days of the week.

THE LONDON EYE is an observation wheel which rotates 450 feet above the Thames River in about 30 minutes and is London's top tourist attraction as of this writing. Designed by a husband and wife architect team and built by

LONDON EYE CAPSULE

British Airways, this ride is the ultimate achievement in architecture and engineering. I went on the Eye in the morning on a clear day and the view was spectacular. I imagine the night view is equally incredible.

KENSINGTON PALACE

Castle tours are available throughout the city, including royal palaces and private homes. Duck Tours' amphibious yellow vehicles let you take in the city sights by land and then launch into the Thames! This is a unique, fun way to tour the city. Originally known as 'DUKWS' in WW2, these were first used on D-Day to take troops ashore. London is full of open air markets and street shows as well as the very best in concerts, theatre, clubs and of course, pubs.

Go to www.visitbritain.com and www.britrail.com to purchase package deals and discount tickets. I also highly recommend that you purchase a Knopf Guide of London. This vibrant little book of photos, maps and